

Regina Brett

Regina Brett is the New York Times bestselling author of God Never Blinks: 50 Lessons for Life's Little Detours, which has been published in more than 22 languages.

She hosts the inspirational podcast Little Detours with Regina Brett.

Regina also wrote, Be the Miracle: 50 Lessons for Making the Impossible Possible and God Is Always Hiring: 50 Lessons for Finding Fulfilling Work.

She was a finalist twice for the Pulitzer Prize in Commentary and now writes for the Cleveland Jewish News.

Surviving cancer inspired her to write the famous 50 life lessons that became a viral sensation. When Regina turned 50, she wrote a column on the 50 lessons life taught her: A life as an unwed mother at 21. A life as a single parent for 18 years. A life searching for love and finally finding it at 40. A life interrupted by breast cancer at age 41. A life that reflects the ups and downs, twists and turns and detours and difficulties we all face.

Regina has a master's degree in religious studies and a bachelor's degree in journalism.

She has been a guest lecturer at John Carroll University, Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland State University, Kent State University and Ursuline College.

She speaks regularly to hospitals, churches, businesses and not-for-profit organizations.

Regina is married and has a daughter, two stepsons and three grandchildren. She lives in Greater Cleveland.
